Summary

As a recent high school graduate poised to embark on my university journey, I bring a lifelong passion for computers and technology. From an early age, I was captivated by the mechanics behind computer games, which sparked my interest in coding at the age of 12. Since then, I have dedicated myself to continuous learning and development in various technological fields. During my high school years, particularly from grades 10 to 12, I focused intensively on project development, gaining comprehensive experience in both backend and frontend technologies. My coding journey began with HTML & CSS, and swiftly progressed to Python at age 13. In the past six months, I have delved into artificial intelligence, working extensively with PyTorch. Concurrently, I have expanded my skills in iOS development, mastering Swift and SwiftUI. I am proficient in multiple programming languages, including Swift, Python (with extensive experience), JavaScript, TypeScript, HTML, and CSS. My technological expertise spans PyTorch, Flask (with significant experience), TailwindCSS, SQL, PyQt, MongoDB, Bootstrap, FastAPI, React, NumPy, Pillow, and Scikit-learn. My career goal is to develop innovative applications and technologies that enhance people's lives. I am committed to contributing to human advancement through impactful projects. I am eager to bring my skills and enthusiasm to a dynamic internship role.
